

Brittnie Quinn- President/Founder/ Owner

With nearly two decades of dance training and experience, Brittnie brings amazing talent and passion to Dance Dynamics Inc. She started dancing at the age of 3 and began intense training at 13. She auditioned for and was accepted into the Chicago Academy for the Arts, a private college-preparatory high school dedicated to the performing arts. Over the course of her training, Brittnie has studied with top teachers such as Randy Duncan, Kirby Reed, Anna Paskevka, Avnun Yakabov, Rachelle Oschner, Jen Lano, Watmora Casey, Bruce Stegman, Joel Hall, Ted Jackson, Nicole Del-Re, Eduardo Vilaro, Brian Friedman, Mia Michaels, Sonya Tayeh, Mandy Moore, Wade Robson, Nick Zbrowski, Joey Tarwater, and Dan Karate. She was also a student at Columbia College Chicago, pursuing a bachelor's degree in Choreography but has put her degree on hold in pursuit of owning Dance Dynamics Inc. In the summer of 2009, Brittnie spent time on both the East and West coasts working with artists and choreographers, including Free, Leslie Scott, Marty Kudelka, Anthony Thomas, Phlex, Jayson Wright, Tucker Barkley, Dena Rizzo, Chris Jones, Chonique, and Kevin Maher.

Brittnie is classically trained in Pointe, Tap, Rhythm Tap, Hip Hop, African, Modern, Lyrical and Jazz. She has taught since the late-90's and has experience teaching ages 2 through adult. Her performance experience includes "Vegas Nights," "Boulder Jazz Dance Workshop Performance (principal dancer and student in the intensive workshop)" and special performer for "Dance Chicago." Her choreographies include "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers," and John Robert Powers Dance Team for IMTA (International Talent and Model Association in New York and Los Angeles). Brittnie has also been featured on Fox News In the Morning as part of their Fame Showcase and she was also on television for the first season of the hit tv series "So You Think You Can Dance" as one of the 50 finalists for the Chicago audition.

Brittnie founded Dance Dynamics Dance Company in 2006 and has been the director and lead choreographer for the past 2 years. This is the 4th year running for the award winning dance company and she is very excited for what this next year has in store. Owning a dance studio has been Brittnie's passion in life since she was 15 years old. This studio, this company, and her amazing staff and dancers is her every dream come true.

2009 has been a very successful 1st year producing 1st place routines and placing in the top 10 overall at many competitions." Brittnie and Amelia started Dance Dynamics Dance Company from scratch and has solely put all of their efforts into producing what we know will soon become a nationally renowned and award winning dance company. Our passion for dance and for our dancers is far beyond the stereotypical title of a "Dance Teacher." Teaching and producing true dancers is our whole life, and the work we create is an expression of life, as well as the lessons we try to provide our dancers are life altering. We look forward to many more successful years of watching dancers truly blossom into the dancers they want and desire to become.
